CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in eash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the J. W. BURKE. combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies gainst loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of Murch, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having nereased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors I and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this ompany a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be letermined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company.

Having made extensive preparations for the manufacture of goods, we hope to receive the encouragement of the Southern trade, as we are determined to do all in our power to make their dealings with us satisfactory. We have also in store a large stock of Hats and Caps, of the latest styles which we have just received from the factories and which will be sold

DIANOS AND MELODEONS .- I have now a choice lot of the above Instruments, some just landed, per steamer Monticello, frem the justly celchrated Manufactories of Horatio Worcester and. Carbart, Needham & Co., which, for beauty of finish, sweetness and power of tone, easy touch and durability of wear, never have been and cannot be surpassed by any thing made on the continent of America. The above declaration being established by the estimony of hundreds of the best judges in the land who have tested their merits by actual experiment, I will venture to state two very valid reasons why you should buy of me, in preference even to buying or ordering from the factory, as I have yet to hear of the first complaint of any defect in any Piano sold by meduring the six years I have been in the business.

In the first place, then, I will sell at precisely the same prices charged at the factory, and thus you save freight, insurance, and commissions for receiving and forwarding.

In the second place, you leave in one of your Virginia towns the small profit I make upon the to the sustaining and fostering trade, industry and enterprise at home, where it is sure to react beneficially upon yourself and others. All of which I respectfully submit to your can-lid consideration. JOHN H. PARROTT.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THOMAS HOOD is best known to most readers as a comic poet and humorous writer, For all Throat and Lung Complaints, from | and though eminently successful in this branch of letters, he has also written some of loss to determine which side of his character best displays the man. He seems to revel in the exuberance of his own humor, to rejoice in the fullness of his fun, to live as gay and careless, and happy as the uncaged song The harlequin has made his last leap; the curtain is down, the foot-lights extinguished, the stage deserted. Normal nature assumes the reign, and instead of the ripple of humor, the brawling of wit, the dash of puns, there is a deep and study flow of pathos, of sentiment and even of melancholy. The shallow brook has merged into the deep-flowing river; but both tend at last to the ocean beyond. His life was tinged throughout with melancholy. The necessity for constant exertion, amid the terrors of wasting disease, with death certainly approaching him, apparently little fitted him for the part he had chosen to play. No wonder, at times the pathetic and mounful side of his nature came into view. His poetry does not, however, display any repining at fate, or any morbidness of spirit. The same earnestness and fervor characterizes alike the Bridge of Sighs and Miss Kilmansegg. Whatever his hand found to do, that he did with all his might. To Hood is to be attributed, perhaps, more than to any other modern writer, the graceful and poctical use of puns-a figure sufficiently contemptible generally, but in his hands full of genuine humor. If all who inflict this style of tediousness upon us now could manage it as adroitly as Hood has done, we should soon cease to hear of Dr. Johnson's aphorism--"He who would make apun would pick a pocket." AN ARDENT POLITICIAN AT PRAYER MEET-ING .- A politician of Grand River Valley, not often seen at church, recently attended a prayer meeting. We shall call him Squiggle by way of concealment. In a short time his countenance lost its usual oily, jolly look, and he became oblivious of the solemnities going on around him, and plunged into a profound reverie over the recent defeat of his party in Maine, which he had been discussing that morning. As he reflected, his face naturally elongated, and his jaw dropped. Noticing his serious and solemn look, and not remembering ever to have seen him before, one of the brethren took him to be a stranger of a religious turn of mind, and leaned over his bench and remarked:

"Brother, these are refreshing seasons." Squiggle gazed vacantly at the speaker and groaned inwardly. The brother pursued: "It is good to be here."

Squiggle still absorbed in reverie, groaned again. "Brother do you often think of your future state?"

At the word "State" the eyes of our Democratic friend lost their dreamy look, and his jaw clashed into place like a rat trap. "State!" he exclaimed, bringing down his clenched fist upon the back of the questioner's bench with an emphasis that startled the worthy brother greatly, "Oh! its gone Black Republican by 15,000 majority!"
